Thank you for your interest in working with us at Bristol Wood Recycling Project (BWRP). This application pack includes everything you need to know about the role, what it's like to work here, and how to apply.

We know we're not a perfect organisation, but we're committed to building an inclusive workplace and actively challenging discrimination in all its forms. We warmly encourage applications from people of all backgrounds, identities and life experiences, particularly those underrepresented in our team.

Volunteer Applicants:

A number of our current staff began as volunteers and we're proud to offer genuine pathways into employment. At the same time, all job applications are assessed equally and fairly, based on the requirements of the role and the needs of the co-op.

About BWRP & Our Values

Bristol Wood Recycling Project (BWRP) is a not-for-profit multi-stakeholder cooperative (a combined membership of employed workers and non-employed supporters). We collect waste wood from across Bristol and the surrounding area and give it new life, either by selling it directly to the public from our timber yard, or transforming it in our carpentry workshop into bespoke furniture and other products.

As well as tackling wood waste and promoting reuse, we create space for people to connect, learn, and build confidence and skills. We offer inclusive employment and volunteering opportunities, and aim to make our yard a welcoming and supportive place for everyone.

Being a cooperative, we are self-managed and collectively run. This means that after passing probation, all staff are invited to become co-op members and take part in shaping the direction of the organisation through democratic decision-making. We follow the Values and Principles of the International Co-operative Alliance. You can read more about these co-operative principles on their website here: Co-op values and principles.

BWRP Aims:

1. Save resources from waste
2. Provide affordable timber to the local community
3. Create opportunities for inclusion, connection and skill-building
4. Remain financially independent and mission-led

BWRP Values:

1. Resourcefulness – Making the most of what we have
 2. Openness – Communicating honestly and reflectively
 3. Empowerment – Supporting others to take action
 4. Learning – Staying curious and adaptable
 5. Wellbeing – Prioritising care for people and planet

Salary: £19,776 per annum (£28,252 FTE)

Job Summary

The Collections Team plays a vital role in Bristol Wood Recycling Project's mission to save timber from waste and promote reuse. As a Collections Team Member, you'll support the safe and efficient running of our wood collections service - collecting, sorting, and redistributing reclaimed wood across Bristol and beyond.

You'll work closely with the Collections Coordinator and other team members to organise and carry out daily collections and deliveries, maintain vehicles, and provide great customer service to clients. The role involves both driving and physical work, and requires attention to safety, communication, and teamwork.

You'll also work alongside and support volunteers in the yard and on collections, helping create a safe, inclusive, and welcoming environment. While this is primarily a practical role, you'll be part of a co-operative organisation where everyone contributes to decision-making and the shared running of the project.

This is an ideal role for someone who enjoys hands-on work, being outdoors, and contributing to a meaningful environmental and social mission.
